Alleges the Former Mayor Intimated
He Would Be Rewarded If He Agreed Not to Report On the Rose
County Local Option Bill—State
Rests and the Defense Is Given
Chance to Introduce Testimony.

Columbus, O., Feb. 5. — The state having rested in the trial of Former State Senator Thomas Dean and Former Mayor Bond of Columbus, for alleged bribery, the defense is having its turn today.

Before resting the prosecution called Former State Senator W. L. Atwell of Licking county to the stand. He rested instances of alleged overtures of reelection and remuneration if he would oppose the Rose county local option bill in the senate in January, 1908, which he declared made to him
by Mr. Bond.

He told the jury that when he refused to take remuneration should he consent to disapprove the Rose bill, Mayor Bond chided him and said he was too conscientious, but would get over it when he had been in politics longer.

After Former State Senator Joseph
F. Sites of Lancaster testified that Mr. Drake was the last of the three members of the senate temperance committee to sign the Rose bill, the state rested. Only four witnesses were called by the state to establish its case, and one of these, a clerk
from the secretary of state's office,
was not asked a question.

Casey, Stripped to His Hide, Says New York Is Too Much For Him.

New York, Feb. 5. — "I'm here to say New York's the worst place I ever heard of and it's back to Athens, Pa., for me as soon as the family can send me the money to pay my railroad fare." This was what Michael Casey, a farmer, told Magistrate D'Conor in the West Side police court, and he added that he only wanted to stay here long enough to appear against Thomas Reilly and Arthur Frohm, both of whom Casey accused of robbing him of his last 90 cents. Reilly and Frohm, who had been halted by a shot fired over their heads by Policeman Steele, were held in $3,000 bail each for a further hearing. Casey claims while here he was robbed of $100 and a gold watch. He spent several days in a hospital as the result of knockout drops.

HORSE STANDS COYOTES OFF.

Guards His Fallen Master Until Found
by Passersby.

Larned, Kan. — But for his horse J.
H. Ellis would have been eaten by coyotes. While driving a herd of cattle he sighted coyotes and gave chase.
The horse stumbled, wrenching a leg.
Ellis was thrown on his head and rendered unconscious. The coyotes then formed a circle around the helpless man, awaiting a chance to begin the feast.

The horse, on three legs, hobbled round and round his master, holding the coyotes at bay until the situation was noticed by passersby and the rider and steed rescued.

EXONERATES BROTHER

Takes Stand and Admits Killing of Rival in Quarrel Over Girl.

Elyria, O., Feb. 5. — An apparently certain verdict of guilt for murder was changed from one man to another here when Anton Bobee, one of two brothers on trial, testified that he, and not Basil Bobee, killed Sean-law Stanboli in a quarrel over a girl at Lorain, Oct. 11, 1912. Witnesses had said Anton was innocent and that Basil stabbed Stanboli to death. Then Anton took the stand, exonerated his brother and admitted the killing.

The cause of the murder was Anna
Sam, the belle of the ball. She testified that Stanboli attempted to steal her from her husband, to whom she had been married the same day, and that the Bobee brothers interfered.

Big Steamer Sinks in Ohio

Gallipolis, O., Feb. 5. — The packesteamer City of Parkersburg, owned by the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet company, sank in deep water at Dam No. 6, near here, after striking a bear trap pier, which Pilot Harry Sweeney failed to see in the darkness. Fifteen panic-stricken passengers and the members of the crew reached the shore safely and were kept from freezing with fires built with driftwood. The City of Parkersburg is valued at $35,000, and may prove a total loss.

SIGNING OF THORPE COST NINE THOUSAND.

New York, Feb. 5. — It leaked out that the signing of James Thorpe by Manager McGraw of the Giants last week involved an outlay of $9,000. According to a story told by baseball men who were in touch with the negotiations for the noted Indian's services as a ball player, Thorpe's contract calls for a salary of $6, 000 for one year. When he attached his signature to the document Thorpe, it is said, received an extra bonus of $500, while Glenn Warner, who brought the redskin here and exerted his influence to help McGraw, is reported to have pocketed $2,500 on the side.

POLICE BELIEVE HIS RECITAL

Motives Given For Each of Three Explosions That Have Puzzled the
New York Sleuths—Self-Confessed
Murderer a Sailor, Ex-Convict and Graduate of an Insane Asylum.
Revenge His Object.

New York, Feb. 5. — John Paul Farrell, a gaunt, spectacled janitor, ex-sailor and ex-convict and graduate of an insane asylum, pointed to himself as the maker and sender of all three bombs that have been police mysteries of the past year. The bomb that killed Grace Walker a year ago,
the bomb that went off in Judge Otto Rosalsky's home on March 15 last year, and the bomb that killed Mrs.
Madeline Herrera Sunday night, Farrell claims each of them as his own.
Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty, allowing for all discrepancies and the fact of previous insanity, believes Farrell tells the truth.

For each of the three bomb explosions Farrell gave his motives. He said that Grace Walker had been a friend of his, that she abandoned him,
and that when he called at her home
to reproach her for keeping bad company she told him to mind his own business and slammed the door in his face. That was 10 days before her death.

From that door Farrell says he went back to his basement room in East Fourteenth street, where he was then janitor, and there manufactured and addressed with a typewriter his first bomb.

His grudge against Judge Rosalsky
had nothing to do with the Brandt case, although it was suspected at the time that the sentencing of Brandt by Judge Rosalsky was responsible for the bombs. Farrell said he put the judge on his list of recipients of infernal machines because the judge had sent a pal of his, De Rosa the Bull, to prison for 39 years.

The third bomb, which killed the wife of Bernardo Herrera, blinded
her husband and seriously hurt Miss Sarah Fughtman, was aimed at Herrera, because Herrera had fired Farrell from his job as assistant janitor
of the Fulton avenue apartment house.

Farrell told the police he had served 18 months in the Trenton prison for burglary. He also said that he was at one time an orderly in a hospital for the insane at Danville, Pa.

Knight Of The Big Mit

New York, Feb. 5. — Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world,
defeated Young Driscoll of Brooklyn
in one of the most amateurish 10-round bouts that a champion ever engaged in. The affair was held at the Irving Athletic club in Brooklyn.
From the start Kilbane showed a surprising lack of class. He missed punches galore and when he did land his blows appeared very weak. There were no knockdowns.

Judge Impanels Sixteen to Clean Up

San Francisco, Feb. 5. — Ignoring the opinion of Attorney General Webb that women are not liable for jury duty under the suffrage amendment, Superior Judge Buck of San Mateo has impaneled 16 housewives to serve on the grand jury of that county during the next six months. Judge Buck believes, with Jane Addams, that municipal government is nothing more than housekeeping, and that as women are natural housekeepers, he intends to give them a chance to clean up the government of the neighboring county.

Washington, Feb. 5. — A movement to bring about the appointment of Representative Matthew R. Denver as a member of President-elect Wilson's cabinet. Mr. Denver is a member of the present delegation from Ohio in his colleagues, but was not a candi-

Representative Sherwood of Toledo wrote to President-elect Wilson, suggesting the name of Mr. Denver. This action will be followed at a caucus of

by a motion to endorse Mr. Denver and also to have the delegation go in Columbus, O., Feb. 5. — The Cincinnati street railroad muddle ceased to be a local trouble and became a statewide municipal issue with the presentation to the house judiciary committee at the close of a three-hour public hearing by City Solicitor Albert Bett-man of Cincinnati of a bill abrogating every street railroad franchise in Ohio and granting in its stead an indeterminate franchise, with provision for ultimate municipal ownership, preceded by a period of profit-sharing and cost-sharing in the maintenance of the road between the municipality and the company.

The bill is the Hunt administration's solution of the street railroad problem and was offered in opposition to the Bigelow measure, which would merely abrogate the Cincinnati 59-year franchise and contains no constructive legislation.

CORRUPTION CHARGES DENIED BY SENATORS

Chilton and Watson Before Senate Elections Committee.

Washington, Feb. 5. — The senate committee on privileges and elections held a session for two hours to consider a memorial submitted at the last session by Governor Glasscock and several members of the West Virginia legislature, charging corruption in the election of United States Senators Chilton and Watson of that state. The two senators were before the committee. The meeting was in executive session. The accused members told their colleagues that the charges were framed up by political enemies, and in refutation of one charge, the most important, namely, that Delegate L. J. Shock, who was represented as having boasted that he received $1,000 to vote for the two senators, a letter was submitted from Shock in which he made a sweeping denial.

The committee adjourned its session over until Friday, when a decision will be reached as to whether the investigation should be ordered by the senate or a recommendation made that it be dropped entirely.
The impression here is that there will be no investigation into the election of the West Virginia senators.

Columbus, O., Feb. 5. — Besides

company for foreclosure of a mortgage, Federal Judge Sater expressed the belief that John C. Webb, former president of the company, who still is trying to retain the position in the face of stockholders opposition, is not actually president. Judge Sater ruled the federal court had no authority in the case, since the receivership of the

A splendid spirit of enthusiasm marked the opening of the Young Men's Christian Association membership campaign for 400 in 4 days, last night, when fully 85 of the ten teams of workers gathered at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium for supper and instruction in the work, and today the workers are out working toward the four hundred mark, and by Saturday night hope to have the desired number with some to spare.

Tonight at 6:13 the workers will all assemble at the Y. M. C. A. again to enjoy a chicken supper and report progress for the first day. Meanwhile the various teams are working hard to make a good showing and some surprises are expected.

Mayor Harve W. Smith served the supper last night and will also serve the suppers during the remainder of the week. The gymnasium was attractively arranged, and from all parts of the room the familiar slogan "400 in 4 days" announced the work before the workers.

Each team had a table to itself, and Capt. Gen. Edw. Fite's table had some ten "culls" in addition to the regular team. Music was furnished by Jess W. Smith's Victrola.

After all had finished eating, Captain General Fite made a short speech, every word of which was to the point, outlined the campaign, and announced that Hon. H. M. Daugherty, of Columbus, had forwarded a check for $100 as a starter on the campaign, and the announce-

You Should Buy Prudently

Your success in providing against a rainy day—success in life, in fact, is measured by the way you spend your earnings. All of your spendings should be done with foresight and prudence, and this is true of the articles you buy for your person and your home above all things.

Prudence in buying is principally in reference to the things to be bought and the means, place, and time to buy or not to buy. Unless you are careful upon these points the goods more than likely will prove disappointing and your cost of living may rise quite unnecessarily.

You can only exercise prudence in your purchases by knowing the best places to secure the best qualities at the right time. Each day the advertisers of THE HERALD tell you these things, and it is to your interest to start today and read these advertisements closely and constantly.

ment was received with a cheer.

Following Mr. Fite, Mr. O. J. Mobley explained some of the features to be observed in the campaign.

State Secretary of Ohio Y. M. C. A.'s, A. H. Lichty, who came down from Columbus to be present at the opening of the campaign, then made a rousing address in which he pointed out the need of co-operation in the work to make it a success, and that team work alone is the method to bring about desirable results. "The united efforts of many workers will accomplish wonders, and as I look at the large number of determined faces before me I feel that the '400 in 4 days' will be made a reality," he said in part.

He closed his remarks with an appropriate story, and read from one of the campaign cards the lines of "It Can Be Done", which end with the words, "He started to sing and he tackled the thing that couldn't be done, and he did it."

Lists containing the names of several hundred men and boys in the city and county were passed to the various captains, and names selected by each team, and the people will be approached during the campaign.

Before all had finished, some had departed in quest of their first new members.

A great deal of interest centers on the meeting tonight, as all are anxious to learn what the number of new ones will be for the first day.

One of the circulars distributed at the meeting last night was pronounced by State Secretary Lichty to be one of the most original and best he had ever beheld, and he ordered a large number to be forwarded to other Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the United States, sending one of them to Portland, Oregon.

This interesting and somewhat novel piece of literature reads as follows:

A NEW THOUGHT.

About an organization big enough to hold Bill Taft, T. R., Bill Bryan, and Woodrow Wilson at the same time.

Fayette county has 1417 hog houses and 798 cattle barns. The reason why we are able to raise fine hogs and good cattle, is because we are looking after the proper housing, feeding and training of these animals.

The Young Men's Christian Association is the first institution organized in this county for our young men. It's the place where all men, whether church members or not, Catholic or Protestant can meet together on common ground and enjoy each other as men. It's a character building place, and the atmosphere is filled with helpfulness, kindness and co-operation. With our facilities for the development of the all-round man, we can truly call ourselves a man factory.

You can't fatten hogs in a mud wallow any quicker than you can develop Christian manhood behind a cigarette in a pool room, or on a street corner.

IT TAKES GOOD CORN to make a good hog and fatten him, and

TO MAKE A MAN

it takes good companions, a wholesome place to spend spare moments and with some definite program of development for spirit, mind and body.

THAT'S THE JOB of the Young Men's Christian Association. To plan a work that will satisfy the natures of men, their needs for physical development, social contact, and prepare them for the strains of work, and the responsibilities of manhood.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

Come down and look the building and equipment over. You helped to put it here, that it might help you. Ask the men who are using the privileges, what it is doing for them. Ask your doctor what it will do for you. Then ask yourself if it isn't time for you to join?

LOOK HERE.

The cost is really nothing compared to what you can do for yourself and others by joining:

Juniors, 11 to 15 years, only $4 per year.

Intermediates, 15 to 18 years, $5 per year.

Seniors, 18 years and up, $6 per year.

Sustaining and Business Men, $10 per year, but this membership includes private locker, dressing room and separate baths.

400 new members in Four Days, Feb. 5 to 8, is our slogan. Will you be one?

The Only and Original Secretary "Put" Sandles Will Address Our People

At Grace Church on Next Tuesday Evening on "Dollars and Sense," and Those Who Are Fortunate Enough to Hear Him Will Enjoy a Real Treat.

On Tuesday evening next, February 11, at Grace M. E. church, Hon. A. P. Sandles, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture will address the people of Fayette county and Washington C. H.

Mr. Sandles' subject, "Dollars and Sense" is a typical Sandles' subject and conveys to those who know the ability and the genius of "Put" Sandles just what kind of a talk those who are fortunate enough to hear it, will enjoy.

Mr. Sandles has a manner of reasoning all his own—peculiarly his own—and a way of putting his thoughts forcefully which is his own individual way. He is like no other speaker. His original ideas dressed in original language have captured all of his audiences whenever he has spoken.

Post the Only One Who Is Satisfied

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., regarding the proposed changes in congressional district lines in Ohio, says:

"Representative J. D. Post of the Seventh Ohio district, is the only member of the Ohio delegation in congress to voice no objection to the proposed changes in district lines. Under the plan being considered the Seventh is to be merged with the Eleventh, now represented by H. C. Claypool. Post declares he could win in the primary and general election anyway. Representative Alfred G. Allen of Cincinnati, however, shows no such unconcern over the idea of taking away part of his Democratic support and putting it into Representative Bowdle's district. Allen says it can't be done without taking enough Republicans along with it to neutralize the gain. Bathrick of the Nineteenth says he will make no scramble for advantage by means of a gerrymander. He holds that the redistricting should be done in such a way, that the representative of either party could be defeated if he proved unsatisfactory to the people. Sherwood declares the proposed change would make his district 5000 Republican. Francis says the same about the changes to be made in his district.

Opportunity For Philanthropists

During the present Y. M. C. A. membership campaign in which it is planned to secure 400 new members and bring the total membership up to 800 or more, it is part of the plan to secure names of worthy boys who are not able to pay the membership fee, and to offer the opportunity to philanthropically inclined citizens, both men and women, to make the youngsters happy with a year's membership in the association.

If possible 50 to 100 such memberships will be added to the list, and a number have already volunteered to see that one or more memberships (one person has promised ten) are paid, thus extending the influence of the Y. M. C. A. into new fields and broadening its scope for training the youngsters.

There is a large number of youths in the city anxious to join the Young Men's Christian Association, but lack of money to do so prevents them from becoming members.

CLUB NEWS

The bitter cold weather did not prevent an excellent meeting of the Browning club Tuesday night.

The president, Mrs. F. G. Carpenter, conducted the opening business session.

Miss Senneth Kellough gave brilliant interpretation to the "Erl King", with its wonderful music bringing out the thought of Schiller's beautiful poem.

The History department, Miss Hilde Van Winkle, chairman, had the program in charge.

Mrs. Julia Kennedy presented a fine paper on "Stockholm", introducing her subject with Stoddard's oft quoted saying that, "When the Lord made the world and divided the land and water, he forgot Stockholm and left her to both." Stockholm is on 9 islands, with a series of fortifications, and is today a city of 300,000 and one of the handsomest in the world. Old Stockholm has narrow streets, house of 5 and 6 stories, built of hay and stubble. It is called the Northern Venice, but its canals are wider than those in Venice. Harbors are in the midst of the city and docks where boats land their cargoes are 150 feet from the finest palaces. Steamers of various sizes take the place of trolly and traction lines in other countries.

No city makes such pretensions in architecture and only the rich can build. The Grant hotel is the finest in Europe and next to the Royal Palace, built upon a rock surrounded by water. The National Library contains 3,000 and the Academies of Fine Arts and Science rank at the top.

An exceedingly bright and interesting paper on "Gustavus Adolphus" was given by Miss Van Winkle.

No man wielded more power in Europe and proved a warlike king, withal a scholarly and religious one. When armies met face to face the Swedes opened the war by singing a hymn composed by Luther; Gustavus would give the word of command and his soldiers would rush to battle. Gustavus formed a code of laws which made prominent the worship of God.

Miss Van Winkle also touched upon Charles XII, a totally different man from Gustavus. It was said that he spent his boyhood cutting off heads so as to be ready for his later work of extermination.

After the program topics for programs next year were discussed and Mrs. Glenn Rodgers elected to membership.

Mrs. H. L. Stitt entertained the Cecilians Tuesday afternoon.

A very beautiful program was given, including a number of opera selections on Mrs. Stitt's Victrola.

Mrs. Nina Craig gave the story of "Madame Butterfly" and the explanation of its songs given on the Victrola. There were nine records by the grand opera singers Geraldine Farrar, Louise Homer, Scotti and Caruso.

Miss Del Lanum presented the "Life of Mozart" and two Mozart choruses, "Flowers and Fancies" and "Spring Time", were sung. The chorus singers were Mesdames Welter Shoop, M. S. Daugherty, B. F. Davis, T. H. Craig, F. A. White, W. P. Barnes, Misses Edith Gardner and Del Lanum. The chorus also sang Brahms' "Song from Ossian's Fingal," a wierd, minor mode, very effective, and the "Cradle Song".

Among the afternoon's guests were Miss Mary Craig and guest, Miss Mills, Mrs. Roy McClure and daughter, Enid, Mrs. Martin Hamm and daughter, Miss Edith, Miss Rilla Pitzer.

Annual Sale Brings Big Buyers

Mr. Hugh K. Stewart, of Springfield farm, attended the banquet and meeting of the Duroc Breeders' State Association in Dayton Wednesday night. This is the "Ohio Sales Circuit" week of Duroc breeders and prominent buyers from all over the states are in Ohio to attend these sales. A number will come from the Eaton sale Thursday to attend Mr. Stewart's annual sale of improved Duroc bred sows, held in the Hess Livery barn on Market street Friday.

Mr. Stewart's reputation as a breeder and the high class of the fashionably bred animals of the Springfield herd make his annual sale one of the most notable in the sales circuit and brings to Washington a large attendance of foreign buyers.

Episcopalians Are Encouraged By Donation

The Episcopalians of this city are greatly pleased over word from Dayton that a substantial sum has been placed at their disposal for the erection of the new church which is so eagerly anticipated.

Leading members of St. Andrew's Mission have been on the lookout for a suitable site for the church for some time and the encouragement of this donation will act as an added spur to their efforts.

Although in the embryo state, St. Andrew's mission is made up of live workers and there is little doubt that the erection of a church home will be pushed to speedy consummation.

OFF WITH A GOOD START.

The attack of Herbert S. Bigelow, member of the Hamilton county delegation in the Ohio House of Representatives on The Cincinnati Times Star is far enough out of the ordinary routine of procedure in legislative bodies, even in these stirring times, to arouse great interest.

Mr. Bigelow Monday night rose to personal privilege in the House of Representatives and proceeded to launch forth into a Bigelow invective against the Queen City newspaper and that means that Mr. Bigelow delivered an awful grueling.

The immediate cause of the trouble was a quotation of language alleged to have been used by Mr. Bigelow in one of his Sunday night sermons at the Grand Opera House in Cincinnati.

The newspaper quoted Mr. Bigelow as having said in that sermon: "My one ambition is to take from the rich and give to the poor, and I am indifferent as to the means employed."

That is a startling statement.

Standing out alone in bold type it may mean socialism pure and simple, or it may mean more. It may be the ardent language of an enthusiastic progressive, and it might be the measured words of the man who would go even beyond socialism.

If used by the former it might well frighten the timid.

But argument on just what was meant by the use of such language is not profitable because Mr. Bigelow denies that he used it and The Times Star, when cornered is not conclusive in its proof of the truth of its assertion, nor emphatic in its claims of authority.

Mr. Bigelow is regarded by both friend and foe, follower and opponent, as an able man. He is conceded, however, by all to be an extremist and hence subjected to being misquoted and frequently misunderstood.

Mr. Bigelow is no more extreme in his progressivism or whatever one may choose to characterize his particular ideas on political and governmental questions, than the Times Star is in its hide-bound and blind, unreasoning opposition to all progressive measures.

The Cincinnati newspaper on the one hand and Mr. Bigelow on the other, typify the two extremes on the political questions of the day and a clash which breaks free of all parliamentary or editorial restraint and courtesy, just such as has now occurred, has been expected for some time. Indeed, the marved is that these two able exponents of opposite extremes did not come to an open clash long ago.

The battle is now on, precipitated by Mr. Bigelow's attempt to break the strangle-hold of monopoly on public service franchise secured during the reign of the boss in Cincinnati, particularly that of The Cincinnati Traction Company and bids fair to last long and wage furiously.

Mr. Bigelow is determined to "start something" at Columbus, and as he has both the ability and the inclination to do so the people of Ohio may be prepared to hear much of Mr. Bigelow before his term expires. The Times Star is determined to defend the public service franchise holders of Cincinnati, regardless of merit or reason, to the last ditch, and once having looked horns with Mr. Bigelow and that other natural enemy, The Cincinnati Post, it is not unlikely that the turf will be considerably trampled during the next few months.

Make Opportunities on the Farm Equal Those of the City

By HENRY J. WATERS, President of the Kansas State Agricultural College

THE call of the city always has been answered by the brightest and best of the young men and women on the farms. The WEAKER ARE LEFT BEHIND as a general rule.

Is there a stockman or farmer in the country who would expect to keep up the standard of his herds, flocks or crops if he persistently sold off the best he produced and kept as parents or seed the poorest or the most unfit?

TO RETAIN A FAIR SHARE OF THE BEST STOCK OF BOYS AND GIRLS ON THE FARM IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO EQUALIZE THE OPPORTUNITIES OF THE FARM AND CITY. WE MUST MAKE THE CHANCES FOR SUCCESS—CONSPICUOUS SUCCESS—AS LARGE IN ONE PLACE AS IN THE OTHER.

We must MAKE FARMING MORE PROFITABLE. The intelligence of the people on the farm in any country finally is directly related to the income derived from the business as compared with the income derived from other occupations.

PEOPLE WILL STAY ON THE FARMS IF THE OPPORTUNITIES ARE AS GOOD IN AGRICULTURE AS IN OTHER LINES. IF THEY ARE NOT, THE INTELLIGENT AND AMBITIOUS WILL LEAVE THE FARM.

Poetry For Today

WORLD WEARY.

I am tired of the world and its follies,
And I long for the time that's to be
When this wearisome burden of living,
Will fall like a garment from me.

I am sick of the sin and corruption,
With which this world is so rife,
Though yet in it's beautiful summer,
I am weary, so weary of life.

I am tired of the play that is acted,
The sickening play of deceit,
But a farce is the dream of living,
I repeat, and again repeat.

Deep, deep in the mire of perdition,
Surges life's great cavalcade,
Despoiling the beautiful foot-stool,
The hand of the Good Father made

What wonder I faint by the wayside,
What wonder I fall in the fight,
The demon of wrong has supplanted,
The starry-eyed Goddess of right.

O! I long for the glorious dawning,
Of that beautiful day yet to be.
When this wearisome burden of living,
Will fall as a garment from me.

The above beautiful poem was written by Judge James Sloane. He was one of the best lawyers that ever lived in Hillsboro and the father of Ulric Sloane, who died recently.

GEN. WOOD WANTS ARMY OF 600,000

National Reserve of 450,000,
150,000 Standing.

UTILIZE MILITARY SCHOOLS

As Basis For Drawing Supply of Officers—Proposal to Cut Term of Enlistment to Two Years in Effort to Get Required Number of Privates Would Decrease Murder Rate.

Washington.—Plans for an army of 600,000 men have been prepared by Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army.

General Wood is not in favor of a large standing army, but he points out that in the Revolution this country was assisted by France; in the war of 1812, even when Great Britain was closely pressed during the Napoleonic wars, the United States narrowly escaped defeat, while the Mexican war only represented a triumph over a far weaker power. Never yet has this country confronted a first class military power, he says. Our tremendous resources of men are now as unavailable and useless as would be rich Arabian gold mines during a crisis in Wall street.

"How can we be ready and yet not become a military nation?" he asks. He estimates that at the first call to arms 600,000 men must be immediately mobilized, while the utmost force that could now be put in the field is 150,000 men.

Then General Wood outlines the plan the general staff is at present pushing in congress to supply the national reserve of 450,000 men it deems necessary.

It figures that 16,000 officers are first of all required as a nucleus of the reserve. Material for these would be found in the 25,000 students of military schools throughout the country.

MAJOR GENERAL LEONARD WOOD.

The general staff first of all has asked congress for legislation authorizing graduates from these schools to be enlisted for one year as second lieutenants in the regular army. Thus it hopes to instruct in the officer's duty men enough to fill the reserve's needs. Ten days' service with the army every other year would be the only additional requirement of reserve officers.

To provide the 450,000 reserve privates and noncommissioned officers the general staff proposes to reduce the term of enlistment in the regular army to two years, thus creating a constantly shifting personnel equipped with military knowledge, with the duty of serving the flag in case of war. This scheme would be supplemented by co-operation with the national guard of the different states and supervision of their work by the general staff, while they would be stimulated to larger enlistments than at present.

"We have a murder rate about five times as great in this country as that of any of the so called military countries of Europe," says General Wood. "Military service instills regard for law and order while it instills solidarity and patriotism. Wars will always exist until human nature is so changed that great nations, realizing that they have the power and can get what they need, voluntarily submit disputes to arbitration. That consummation will never be reached."

When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated travelogue on "Panama" at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by continual coughing of the audience. Many a good sermon, lecture or concert, is spoiled in the same way. No one annoys willingly and if people with coughs, colds, hoarseness and tickling in throat would use Foley's Honey & Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their coughs and colds and avoid this annoyance. It is a splendid household medicine and contains no opiates. Blackmer & Tanquary.

GIVES SLED THAT WENT TO SOUTH POLE

Amundsen Presents One to the New York Museum.

New York.—Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, presented one of the three sleds used by his expedition to the American Museum of Natural History.

A letter from John A. Gade says the sled made the entire journey to and from the south pole on the recent expedition. One of the three sleds taken was left behind at the pole. A second was presented to a Norwegian society. The letter concludes:
"By this gift Captain Amundsen hopes to express his gratitude and acknowledgment to the American people and most especially to the scientific associations which in all this work have shown him such constant encouragement and ready assistance."

A formal letter of acceptance was sent to Captain Amundsen by President Osborne, who referred to the fact that Admiral Peary had given to the museum one of his sleds that made the journey to the north pole.

RESUME MONEY TRUST PROBE

Will Probably Elect Glass Chairman at Next Session—Pujo Retiring.

Washington.—Members of the money trust committee deny that that body will give up its investigation in an uncompleted state. Chairman Pujo will retire from congress at the end of this session, and Representative Carter Glass of Virginia probably will be elected chairman.

As soon as the new committee is chosen a resolution will be presented to the house asking for inquisitorial powers to go into the affairs of national banks. This resolution was passed by the house at the last session, but was defeated in the senate. As soon as this resolution is passed the committee will go ahead with the investigation of the national banks.

English Professor Pins His Faith to Alcohol.

London.—Alcohol is to solve the fuel problem, said Professor Lewis. "There is only one way," he says, "to regenerate the sun's energy to make it available for power, and that is by alcohol. In vegetation we can find energy absorbed by a plant from the sun. That energy can never be regenerated as coal or oil, but it can be as alcohol. At present, however, this is practically out of the question."

Novel Combination of Fresh Mushrooms With Sausages.

"Have you ever tried broiled sausages with mushrooms?" asks a correspondent of the "Epicure." "As a matter of fact the sausages are not broiled at all, but the smallest of breakfast sausages are laid in a sizzling hot frying pan and cooked brown on one side, then turned and taken out to drain on paper when sufficiently cooked.

"Some fresh mushrooms that have been peeled are then set cooking in the sausages on slices of toast which have been buttered. For a change add a few slices of bacon to the dish of sausages before cooking the mushrooms.

"For another dish: Put a sweet Mexican pepper or Pimento morrones—the tinned variety—in the bottom of a custard cup or earthen egg cup, break in a fresh egg, add salt, pepper and butter, and bake until the egg is sufficiently cooked. Serve with fingers of crisp buttered toast."

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Take one every night for a week and note the effect.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the Speaker of the House, tells a story of her ancient colored cook, who took a liking to every article in her mistress's wardrobe. It was "Please give me this" and "Please give me that," until Mrs. Clark took a trip to St. Louis and laid in a generous supply of hosiery and underwear and outer garments for the old mammy. The gifts were received with gratitude, but presently the old cook was at her old tricks, asking for stockings, aprons and wrappers. "What did you do with all those things I brought you from St. Louis?" demanded Mrs. Clark. "Why, missie," answered the woman, "I couldn't use them things. Not for nothing. I am saving them all to be buried in."—Washington Herald.

Counterfeiting Plant in Ross

Sheriff Stoker of Ross county, has been tipped off that there is a counterfeiting plant located somewhere within the county of Ross, where spurious coin is made, and secret service men have been appealed to and will conduct an investigation.

So far as known none of the money has been circulated in the county, but it is made and shipped elsewhere, according to the information handed the sheriff. The man who furnished the information is positive that he is not mistaken about the counterfeiting plant.

ATTENTION MOTHERS.

If You Have or Know of a Delicate Child Read This Letter.

"My little daughter Louise, age 9 years, has always been delicate, anemic, had no appetite and seemed listless, and we could not seem to find anything that would help her, until we were advised to give her Vinol. She started taking it six weeks ago and inside of two weeks she showed a marked improvement both in appetite, vim and looks. Being so well pleased with the results, I continued giving it to her, and words fail to express my gratitude, and faith in Vinol both as a blood maker and body builder. As my child was an anemic for so long makes the reason all the stronger for me to recommend it to others in similar condition." Geo. E. Munro, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Vinol restores health and strength in conditions like this because in a natural manner, it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and strengthens every organ of the body.

Every bottle of Vinol is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Blackmer & Tanquary, Washington C. H. Ohio.

E. H. Amet Rivals Edison In Inventing Talking Movies

THE distinction of being Edison's rival in attempting to perfect "talking movies" makes E. H. Amet of Berkeley, Cal., a man of the hour in the invention world. Our illustrations show him in his laboratory and the method by which he secures moving pictures and sounds at the same time. For nearly five years he has been working at the idea. Now he has invented what he calls the audio-moto-photo. He claims he can register sounds coincidental with motion and reproduce them just as exactly and successfully. He claims his invention will revolutionize the rapidly growing moving picture business. Edison has claimed the same thing.

An Anti-Ant Building.

Reinforced concrete is the material which will be used almost exclusively in the construction of the new Government buildings to be erected by the United States at San Juan, Porto Rico, for use as a post office, court house and custom house. Wood is to be practically excluded from the structure; the only place about the building where wood will be employed will be in the window sashes on one side of the edifice. The interior doors will be of rattan. The reason why wood is being avoided by the government in this case is because there is a small ant indigenous to the island of Porto Rico which eats its way up through wooden chairs, doors and desks and makes them spongy on the inside.

Effects of Overeating.

"Don't eat too much," says "What-to-Eat." Overeating is responsible for many of the ills that afflict humanity. It brings on various diseases, and it predisposes to many kinds of infections. The same stricture may be applied to overdrinking. If one has been so foolish as to eat or drink too much, however, the best thing is to remain in the open air till the effects are overcome. Nothing is so good for an overloaded stomach and a heavy head as great drafts of fresh air. Every lover of "Pickwick" remembers how the jolly Pickwickians had to take twenty mile tramps to walk off the big dinners they ate at old Mr. Wardle's place in the country.

Met a little Pittsburg girl.
She was twenty-one, she said.
And she had goggles o'er her eyes.
A dust-cap on her head.

"My little maid," I said, "Pray tell Me where you've spent Your time." She answered, "I have toured Upon the continent."

"And how was Paris?" then I asked.
But vigorously she fanned Her red-rimmed eyes. It was quite plain
She did not understand.

"Did you see Rome?" I asked in vain.
"And how was Italy?"
She shook the dust from out her clothes.
And vaguely gazed at me.

"Perhaps," I ventured, "Spain you saw,
Madrid—a grand old place?
Maybe at Monte Carlo you?"—
No light broke o'er her face.

"Oh, little maid, don't keep it back;
Tell me—just where you went."
She raised her head quite haughtily.
"We toured the continent."

"What more do you desire than this,
Oh, stranger? Rest content.
We did not see a single place;
We toured—the continent."

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO RELEASE DIEGLE

Newspapers and Prominent Citizens Throughout Ohio Make Appeal to Gov. Cox for Pardon of Former Sergeant-at-arms of Ohio Senate, Now Serving Time in State Prison for Implication in Bribery Case.

Rodney J. Diegle.

In a movement launched by some half a hundred newspaper publishers who met at the Neil House in Columbus Tuesday evening, prominent local citizens as well as other prominent citizens throughout the state have been urged to intercede for the release of Rodney J. Diegle, former senate sergeant-at-arms who is serving a three-year term in the penitentiary for acting as a go-between for Senator Andrews in a bribery case.

Newspaper publishers and prominent citizens all over the state are appealing to Governor Cox for the release of Diegle, and as a result he may be pardoned within a short time. Some of the reasons advanced for the release of Diegle are that while indicted as an accessory he received a sentence four times as great as that of the alleged principals in the case, and has served almost double the term of the principal's sentence, while in the meantime four self-confessed bribe-givers and bribe-takers have been discharged with small fines or promise of immunity and indictments against others nolle.

In his own behalf Diegle says in part: "In all of the legislative scandal my name has never been connected in the most remote improper manner, except the so-called entrapment cases, which the prosecution frankly admits detectives were hired to create. Having no vote the only charge against me was that at the solicitation of a detective I arranged a meeting between the detective and Senator Andrews. Senator Andrews told the truth when he testified that he met the man as a result of a telephone message from the detective himself, and a conversation with Senator Cetone, circumstances with which I had nothing to do.

"Every member of the senate of which I was an officer, together with the presiding officers of both branches, have completely exonerated me from interfering with legislative business of any nature."

two o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Both young people belong to well known Fayette county families, the bridegroom the son of Mr. Samuel B. Hoppes, one of the large landowners of the county, and the bride the daughter of Mr. Isaac Cory, a prominent Good Hope farmer.

The bride, a tall attractive young woman, wore a handsome gown of dove grey silk, with hat en suite. Mr. and Mrs. Hoppes went at once to the bridegroom's farm at Rock Mills, where their home is all in readiness.

They have the best wishes of many friends for a happy married life.

MILLIONAIRE FISHER LIVED AT FRANKFORT

Man Who Invented Presto-lite for Automobiles Is Former Ross County Man Known in This City and Is Assessed $50,000 in a Breach of Promise Suit.

Carl G. Fisher, of Indianapolis, the man who has figured in the sensational breach of promise suit in which Miss Gertrude Hassler asked for $500,000 as heart balm, is a former Frankfort man, and is known in this city.

Fisher invented the Presto-lite for automobiles, and is worth one million dollars. Miss Hassler was awarded $50,000 damages, but so far the amount has not been paid by the young man, and he will probably carry it to a higher court. Fisher's friends are of the opinion that there is no just grounds for the proceedings.

A dispatch regarding the suit says:

"Henry N. Spaan made the closing argument for the defense. He said that he was not attempting to excuse Fisher's actions toward Miss Hassler, but that in whatever was done both were equally guilty and knew what they were doing. He called the actions of Miss Hassler and her attorneys 'mock heroics' and referred to Miss Hassler as a 'clever, finished actress,' with 'gentle, kittenish ways.'"

"Parts of her evidence, especially that about the alleged relations between her and Fisher, after Fisher's marriage, which Fisher denied, and all references to Fisher's alleged statement that he had 'enough money to buy a judge and pin-headed jury,' he said were injected into the case for purposes of prejudging the jury and were without truth.

"Much stress was laid on Mrs. Fisher's testimony that her husband was with her one night Miss Hassler swore she and Fisher were riding together.

"Spaan said that all the letters and documents introduced in evidence against Fisher did not contain any mention or intimation of a marriage to Miss Hassler.

"If Fisher was a poor man there would be no suit now," Spaan said. "They are after his money."

As reasons why Fisher discontinued

ued the remittance of $100 a month, Spaan said Miss Hassler was making her demands too strong, and began annoying Mrs. Fisher.

Still Have Fruit Left

Mrs. M. E. Spencer, of Stowell, Texas, writes that the part of the country in which she lives did not suffer heavily from the cold weather which caused a loss of $30,000,000 to citrus fruit in California and other states.

Mrs. Spencer encloses a clipping from a Texas newspaper which says: "Without meaning to exult over the misfortune of the Pacific coast citrus fruit growers who were seriously damaged by the cold weather of the past few days, we note that the news from different parts of the Texas coast country indicate that the orange and other fruit trees in this region came through the freeze without injury."

Hand Of Defense Shown In Trial Of Two Notables

dent of the public schools at Somerset, said he was invited to lunch at the Neil House with Messrs. Drake, Bond and Dean. He said Messrs. Drake and Bond left the table and Mr. Bond immediately brought up the Rose bill discussion. He said Mr. Bond condemned it as against home rule and that it would hurt business if put in force.

Alleged Threat Made.

He testified that he told Mr. Bond that he favored the bill and this was met with a threatening question by Mr. Bond, "Senator, are you aware that the delegations of Muskingum and Perry counties will be stacked against you if you sign the bill?" Mr. Atwell said Mr. Bond announced, "Senator, I have been authorized to make a proposition to you, if you will agree in the presence of three millionaire brewers at my house not to report on the bill." Mr. Atwell testified he informed Mr. Bond that it was a moral question with him and that it looked as if an attempt was being made to bribe him. He said he did not become angry when the alleged bribing attempt was made.

In the cross-examination of Mr. Drake, Attorney W. H. Boyd tried to make him admit he had been friendly with Dean until the latter announced his candidacy against Mr. Drake, by conversations alleged to have been held, either with or in the presence of M. L. Shackelford, Fremont; E. L. Ways, Sandusky; Frank Mitchell and Colonel J. W. Moore of Fremont, but he denied this.

These men and Judge Scott Stahl, Toledo, have been called to testify for the defense. Judge Stahl is the man whom Mr. Drake is said to have declared that Mr. Dean offered him (Drake) $100,000 to oppose the Rose law.

Mr. Stahl said he might have told Judge Stahl that he believed it would have been worth that amount to him if he had voted for the bill. Judge Stahl also will be expected to testify that Mr. Drake insulted him about running as an independent candidate against Mr. Dean.

Is Met With Cross Bill

to create the position of defender police court of indigent defendants, also the Schaefer bill, forbidding druggists to sell, unless prescribed by a physician, any drugs or medicines if the label makes untrue statements as to the curative or therapeutic effect; the Terrell bill, attempting to set aside the constitution by making retroactive the right conferred by the bill to sue in Ohio for damages for injury or death of an Ohio citizen in another state.

Bread Excluded.

Again the sale-by-weight law failed to secure application to bread in the legislature, and bread eaters will have to be content to buy it of their bakers at so much per loaf, regardless of the size or weight. The senate refused to include bread in the list of articles provided to be sold by weight when it passed the King house bill.

The senate, by a vote of 19 to 13, passed the weed-cutting bill offered by Representative Smith of Butler county, and which occasioned the first turn-down of home rule when the house passed the measure by a slight majority last week.

The house adopted an amendment offered by Mr. Kessler of Adams, permitting convicts to be employed in making lime for fertilizer to be sold to farmers. This amendment was made to the Hite bill to set prisoners at work preparing road material.

The short ballot bill, providing for the appointment of the clerk of the supreme court, was passed by the senate. It is now ready for the governor's signature. Senator Kiser's bill, allowing school boards to condemn property for athletic fields and playgrounds, also was passed by the senate.

Other bills passed by the senate were Senator Welsor's, providing for indefinite sentences to the penitentiary in felony cases, the term to be determined by the state board of administration, and the Frieblon measure, removing the $1,000,000 limitation at which banks may receive city funds on deposit. The capital stock and surplus is to determine the amount which the bank may receive.

Recall Bill Launched.

Representative Oscar E. Diser of Mahoning, who was nominated both by the Republicans and Progressives, took action which will compel the majority to assume a position on the question of the recall of public officers. He offered a joint resolution for submission to the people of a constitutional amendment authorizing the recall of all elective public officials, including judges.

Henry Nell of Chicago, author of the Illinois mothers' pension law, discussed with Governor Cox the advisability of introducing a bill that will deal exclusively with the subject of mothers' pensions in Ohio. A few paragraphs providing mothers' pensions are now buried in a bulky bill that seeks to recodify all laws relating to dependent and delinquent children.

The governor's view was that sentiment for a mothers' pension is so overwhelming in the legislature that

Coshocton, O., Feb. 5.—The fact that his bride of two months continues to embrace the Bahai cult, a weird religious sect, with headquarters at Chicago, is the sole ground stated in petition for divorce by A.
